Challenge Lab 7

Create a new user defined table that can hold the following data:

- A 5 character employee ID number
- An employee's first name (up to 15 letters in length)
- An employee's last name (up to 25 letters in length)

Once your user defined table is activated, populate it with 5 records.

Complete a program which does the following:

When run, your program will export the contents of your user defined table to an external file. The user should be shown the following confirmation screen when the data is exported:
